

PROTESTING FARMERS STORMED CONVENTION HALL

MOSES HURLED CHALLENGE OF REPUBLICANS

Permanent Chairman of G. O. P. Convention was Militant

Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)—Declaring the Republican party would not shirk its responsibility toward agriculture, Senator Moses of New Hampshire, as permanent chairman of the national campaign convention, told the assembly today that the party would enter the campaign "in no posture of defense."

"We come up on the field aggressively militant," he said. "We intend to carry this fight to the end, and we challenge them to bring forth their strongest champion."

"We come now to the central and most important tasks for which we are assembled. First, we are to formulate a declaration of principles which will embody the essentials of Republicanism and with which we shall submit our cause to the people."

"Inevitably, in a party thoroughly national in its vision and contact as ours is, there will from time to time arise differences of opinion. This is by no means the first occasion when Republicans have found themselves at odds regarding a question of cardinal consequence as affecting party policy."

Will Not Shirk.

"No one can doubt the essential sympathy with which the Republican has always looked upon the great and diverse interests which make up the fabric of our national existence. This sympathetic viewpoint has not changed. Agriculture and industry and the social order continue to be the prime objects of our solicitude, and in dealing with them the Republican will not shirk its responsibility."

"We shall, however, now as always, chart our course within the limits of the Constitution and within the operation of sound economic law."

"Less than ten years ago the Republican party stood firm against the surrender of our national sovereignty through minority membership in a foreign super-state—and the people then stood with us twice by majority of more than seven millions."

Predicts Victory.

"So we shall stand firm again here and now—and in November the American people will again crown our courage and reward our sincerity in a victory as splendidly triumphant as any which we have ever achieved."

"Upon the platform which we shall thus reconstruct, we shall place a candidate whose personality fits our principles and the nation's present necessities."

"There is no occasion for the people to distrust our party and to distrust the people. Their sober judgment will rest with us because—"

"In seeking for a foreign policy for the United States we know our people will not turn to the party which conceived and nurtured the League of Nations."

"In seeking for a policy to make the tariff effective for every interest in the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party whose strength and weakness alike lie in its sectional character."

"In seeking for a policy of law enforcement in the United States, we know our people will not turn to the party which maintains itself in the places of its power through nullification of two amendments to the Constitution and which openly flouts a third."

Hits at Tammany.

"And in seeking for an agency to carry forward the program of the social order in the United States, we know our people do not intend to throw our country within the tender embrace of Tammany Hall."

"We enter this campaign in no posture of defense. We come upon the field aggressively militant. We intend to carry this fight to the end, and we challenge them to bring forth their strongest champion. Whether he emerge from another spectacle like the one-hundred-and-three-round battle of the Madison Square Garden, or whether he come from an overpowered convention held spell bound by the glare of the Tammany tiger, we are ready for him. Bring him on and we will bury him. We welcome him with hospitable hands to a bloody grave."

"And we care not whether his name be Brown, Jones, Robinson or Smith."

Fight Over Delegates

Convention Hall, Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)—A fight over the seating of 18 district delegates from Texas broke today in the Republican national convention, with Daniel O. Hastings of Delaware presenting a minority report from the credentials committee, signed by fifteen members.

FATE OF PART OF CREW OF ITALIA STILL UNKNOWN AS OTHER PART DRIFTS NORTH

Better Weather Conditions Cheering to Rescuers

(Copyright, 1928, by the Associated Press.)

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 13.—(AP)—Giuseppe Biagi, radio operator of the Italia, reported to the base ship Citta di Milano today that the Italia party was being driven in a northwesterly direction.

This drift was carrying the Italia party slowly in the direction of their would-be rescuers, who are now making every effort in the sealer Hobby to reach North Cape, whence an air reconnaissance can be made toward Foyn Island.

It has not yet been possible to establish contact with the portion of the crew which drifted away with the gas bag of the dirigible and their fate is not known.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 13.—(AP)—Captain Riser-Larsen and Lieutenant Leutzow Holm, Norwegian fliers, were ready to start today on a determined attempt to bring help to the stranded crew of the Italia now in desperate straits on drifting pack ice.

The sealer Hobby, after battering its way through open leads, was in open water today and the Norwegian fliers were planning to take off as soon as conditions were favorable in an effort to find the Italia's radio party, of which General Umberto Nobile is head, somewhere near Foyn Island off the coast of Northeast Land.

Weather Improved
Two favorable circumstances were presented today, a blizzard, which had been sweeping the archipelago, spent itself and the weather conditions at Spitzbergen were improved.

There was a strong wind, but it was not so cold as yesterday and there was no snow. The sun was shining, thus bringing some comfort to the sorely stricken men of the Italia, now waiting almost three weeks for help.

The second favorable condition was that the Italia party had drifted at least a mile and a quarter to the west, bringing them closer to their would-be rescuers by that much margin and carrying them further from the danger of being swept out to the open sea between the eastern tip of Northeast Land and Franz Josef Land.

The radio operator of the stranded crew, Giuseppe Biagi, told the operator of the Citta di Milano of the drift of the ice in a conversation last evening.

DAWES FAVORITE AS RUNNING MATE FOR SEC. HOOVER

Sentiment for the Vice-President Growing at Convention

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)—Vice Presidential booms have popped up at the Republican convention like mushrooms after a rain since Herbert Hoover accumulated his apparently winning lead in the Presidential race, and leaders were busy today looking over the crop.

In the center of the field and standing a little higher than the host of other candidacies was Vice President Dawes with Secretary Mellon and Senator Borah giving impetus to a boom already underway with public declarations for the incumbent.

So many were the candidates and so strong was the Dawes movement running, that leaders took quick cognizance of the situation and heads were together during the night in the "inner circle" for some preliminary study.

Every Vice Presidential condition today hinged on the Hoover candidacy and the field of contestants ranged from the eastern coast to the Rocky Mountains. It was the consensus that the Hoover running mate should come from the middle west where the agricultural problem is demanding attention of the party chieftains.

Think Dawes Available.
No definite word appeared to have been received from Mr. Dawes as to his availability, but there were plenty of rumors to the effect that he would accept it or would not discuss it which was taken as "silence gives consent." Ed Clifford of Illinois, a close friend of Mr. Dawes, has been active here in his behalf.

Ed Clifford, of Illinois, close friend Dawes declared today he "felt certain" Mr. Dawes would accept the nomination if "drafted." Clifford is actively waging a campaign for the Vice President. He declared the Hoover forces were "absolutely neutral." His slogan is "draft Dawes."

Father of Dixon Policeman is Dead

Officer Harry C. Jones of the police department received word this morning of the death of his father, Melvin Jones, former resident of this city, who passed away at the home of a daughter in Granite City, Ill., his death following a lingering illness. The deceased has been a patient sufferer for a period of several years.

The remains will arrive in Dixon Thursday and will be taken to the home of his son at 715 College avenue. Funeral services will be conducted from the Harry Jones residence, Friday afternoon at 1:30 and from the Pine Creek Brethren church at 2:30 with interment in the Brethren cemetery. Rev. J. H. Brindle will officiate.

Melvin Jones was the son of the late Cyrus Jones and was born in Grand Detour, January 21, 1856. He was united in marriage to Ida Waterman, February 5, 1880. To this union six children were born, three of whom preceded him in death. He leaves to mourn his passing, his widow, one son Harry C. of this city, two daughters of Granite City, Ill., two brothers, Sigle Jones of this city and Otis Jones of Grand Detour; two sisters, Mrs. Ben Reid of Oregon, and Mrs. Milford Cross of Polo, besides a host of relatives and friends.

ANTI-HOOVER MOVEMENT IN KANSAS CITY

Promise to Keep Up Demonstrations at the Convention

BULLETIN

Convention Hall, Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)—The Republican national convention recessed at 1:30 p. m. today, central time, to meet again at 7:30 tonight.

Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)—Two attempts by a throng protesting the nomination of Herbert Hoover to enter the Republican convention hall were frustrated today by police who raised their clubs menacingly to ward off the crowd from the doors. Although some leaders of the crowd cautioned against riotous methods, the column of men, most of whom appeared to be farmers, surged against the door and at one time nearly overcame the opposition of the police.

Finally the leaders of the protesters got the upper hand and led the throng off, shouting alternately "we don't want Hoover" and bowing their heads to the tune of Chopin's "Funeral March." As the music ended the crowd shouted:

For "Hoover's Funeral"

"That's for Herbert Hoover's funeral."

It was difficult to determine just how many of those who participated in the demonstration were actually farmers. The leader of the group, Edgar D. Bush, the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in Indiana, said all of them were protesting the veto of the McNary-Haugen bill and the nomination of Hoover.

L. W. Price, a Los Angeles attorney and a Lowden worker, attempted to incite the throng to break through the doors but Bush and W. H. Settle, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation, cautioned against this move and won out.

After the second attempt to get into the convention hall had failed, the protesters marched to the farm headquarters and "adjourned for the day."

The leaders said the demonstration would be continued tonight and tomorrow.

"Don't Want Hoover"

Frustrated in their initial endeavor to storm the interior of the convention hall, the farmers, shouting "We don't want Hoover" at the top of their voices surged outside the hall in a disorderly and noisy fashion.

The throng, which numbered perhaps between 1500 and 2000, were led to the very doors of the auditorium by Bush. The onrushing column of protesters swarmed right up to the front door of the auditorium and were half way through the runway which borders the hall proper when several squads of policemen rushed up and by strenuous methods forced them back outside the door.

Having been repulsed in their first attempt, the farmers stood outside and shouted "Once more the farmers get kicked out," and "anybody but Hoover."

By RAYMOND Z. HENLE

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)—Further demonstrations from the farm group protesting the nomination of Herbert Hoover was expected today after the convention city had resounded well into the night with cries of "thirty million farmers won't vote for Hoover."

The demonstration was participated in by upwards of 300 men, most of whom looked like they had come right off the farms of the middle-west. They let their protesting shouts ring through the streets, convention headquarters and even within several Hoover mass meetings.

Finally broken up through clever efforts of Representative Wyant, a Hoover worker from Pennsylvania, and a corps of Hoover lieutenants who rushed to the scene, the farm leaders averred they would continue their demonstrations until the balloting commences in an effort to "show the east just what we think of Hoover."

Invade Hoover Meet.

The demonstration received its impetus at a farmers' meeting which was addressed by a number of the leaders advocating a plank in the party platform favoring farm relief along the lines of the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill. Lining themselves up two by two, the throng paraded noisily through convention center streets and at one time halted in Ararat Temple in the midst of a monster Hoover mass meeting.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORTS

STOCKS RECOVER
EARLY ON DAY'S
TRADING IN N. Y.Strong Buying Support Followed Tuesday's Wild Breaks

New York, June 13—(AP)—Strong buying support was supplied for the stock market over night after yesterday's disastrous break and prices today opened irregularly higher. Radio opened with a block of 1000 shares at 176, an overnight gain of 5 points, and early gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points were recorded by General Electric, Curtiss Aeroplane, Western Maryland and Chrysler. International Harvester fell back 2 1/2 points on the first sale.

Liquidation of impaired marginal accounts resulted in the development of a few new weak spots, but the early tendency was unmistakably upward.

High priced specialties, which have borne the brunt of the recent selling pressure snapped back in rather impressive fashion. Case Threshing Machine and General Electric quickly rebounded 6 points. International Telephone 4 1/2. Wright Aeronautical and Texas & Pacific 4 and General Motors, Montgomery Ward, DuPont, Frank G. Shattuck and New York Central rallied 2 points or more.

Foreign exchanges opened slightly easier, with Sterling cables ruling 1-16 of a cent lower around $4.88 1/2. The scramble to get on the band wagon when it became established that the market was heading upward for the moment at least, caused numerous advances of 1/2 to 6 points. Russia Insurance which opened 15 points lower at 145 was soon up to 160 when it discovered where the crowd was heading for. R. H. Macy collapsed 49 points to 300. The renewal rate for call loans was unchanged at 6 per cent.

The closing was strong. Recovery of yesterday's losses, and a good deal more besides, was accomplished in the metric rise of the afternoon which pushed many high priced stocks from 5 to 12 points above the preceding close before they faltered on realizing. Baldwin, which started seven points lower at 238, rose to 275, and then dropped to 260. Total sales approximated 4,000,000 shares.

MA AND HER AUTO RIDE
Before we take an auto ride Pa says to Ma, "My dear,
Now just remember I don't need assistance from the rear:
If you will just keep still back there, and hold in check your fright I'll take you where you want to go and get you back all right."
Remember that my hearing's good and also I'm not blind,
And I can drive this car without suggestions from behind."

Ma promises that she'll keep still, then off we go to start.
But soon she notices ahead a peddler and his cart.

"You'd better toot your horn," says she, "to let him know we're near. He might turn out," and Pa replies: "Just shriek at him, my dear." And then he adds: "Some day some guy will make a lot of dough by putting horns on tonneau seats for women folks to blow."

A little further on Ma says: "He signaled for a turn."
And Pa says: "Did he?" in a tone that's hot enough to burn.
"Oh, there's a boy on roller skates," Ma cries, "now do go slow."
I'm sure he doesn't see our car." An Pa says: "I dunno."
I think I don't need glasses yet, but really it may be
That I am blind an' cannot see what's right in front of me.

If Pa should speed the car a bit some rigs to hurry past.
Ma says: "Now do be careful! You are driving much too fast."
An' all the time she's pointing out the dangers of the street
An' keeps him posted on the roads where street cars heert safely home
Last night when we got safely home Pa sighed an' said "My dear, I'm sure we've all enjoyed the drive you gave us from the rear."

Bridge Party Most Delightful Affair

A bridge party which proved a most enjoyable and charming affair was given on Saturday evening by Mrs. A. L. Lang, 604 Palmyra avenue, at which time she entertained guests for four tables. Unusually lovely table appointments and decorations were in pink and white and green. Peonies and roses, and pink candles, and dainty favors tied with pink, orchid and green tulle, completed the charming effect. The evening two course luncheon carried out the pink and white color idea.
Mrs. J. N. Weiss received the first favor for high honors at bridge, and Mrs. R. D. Worsley received the second favor.
Mrs. Presley Dawson of Rockford; Mrs. L. F. Williams of Chicago; and Mrs. J. M. Heinze of Oak Park, were out of town guests, present at the happy affair.

Enjoyed Picnic at Lowell Park Sunday

The boys of Mrs. Ella Norberg's class of the Sunday school of Bethel U. E. church held their class picnic with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schick at Hazelwood Saturday.
At this time the class was organized, the following officers being elected:
President—Clyde Taylor.
Vice President—Raymond Zuend.
Secretary—Carl Somers.
Treasurer—Clifford Schick.

DROVE HERE YESTERDAY ON WEDDING TRIP—

Herbert Cropsey Page and bride of St. Paul, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. W. Leaming of Chicago motored to Dixon Tuesday, to visit relatives and friends. Mr. Page is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Page, well known in Dixon. Mrs. Leaming was formerly Miss Kittle Cropsey of Dixon, also. Friends and relatives greatly enjoyed the visit of the party.

IS VISITING DAUGHTER IN INDIANAPOLIS—

Mrs. Harry Holt is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Gross in Indianapolis. Mr. Holt, who has been suffering for some time with rheumatism is receiving special treatment at the Edward Hine, Jr. hospital. Mrs. Holt will join her husband in Chicago in a few days.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Orange juice, cereal cream, eggs poached in milk on graham toast, extra toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Sweet potato stew, prune bread, head lettuce, crisp cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER—Broiled salmon, lemon butter, new potatoes in cream sauce, buttered cauliflower, radishes and onions, strawberry sponge, milk, coffee.

Luncheons often present a difficult problem for the housewife during the summer months. They must be nourishing and appetizing but not too heavy. The sweet potato stew is an excellent luncheon dish for children as well as adults.

Sweet Potato Stew
One pound sweet potatoes, 1 cup sifted canned tomatoes, 3 slices bacon, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 small onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon minced fresh sage, 1 teaspoon minced sweet majoram, 1 cup water, 1-2 cup grated cheese.

Wash sweet potatoes and parboil 15 minutes. Peel and cut in slices about 1-2 inch thick. Chop bacon finely and fry out fat over a slow fire. Add butter and onion finely minced. Cook until onion is a golden brown. Add minced fresh herbs and sliced potatoes. Shake and cook for about ten minutes. Turn potatoes if necessary. Add water and tomato pulp and cook, closely covered for 2 minutes. Serve with cheese sprinkled over top.

Dried mixed herbs can be used if fresh ones are not at hand, about 1 teaspoonful of powdered dried herbs.

Miss Helen Bose to Wed Sterling Mar.

Mrs. Meriam Richard, Misses Mildred Schrey and Gladys Newman entertained twenty young women at dinner last evening at the I. S. Gray, bill home, honoring Miss Helen Bose of Dixon who is soon to become the bride of Earl Eichelberger of Sterling. Baskets of peonies and roses, and candles emphasized the color combination of pink and green, the result being most charming. The dinner was served at one large table, and several small ones, roses and original place cards and favors, being used. A mock wedding ceremony was performed, after the dinner which caused much merriment.

The bride-to-be was showered with many lovely gifts of silver and linen.

Special Meeting for Girls of "Y" Camp

Just a week before Camp for "Y" girls.
A special meeting for all girls going to the Girl's Y camp will be held tomorrow night at the Y at 7:30 p.m.

It is urged that all mothers who can attend do so as there will be a careful explanation of camp routine and activities. There will also be lists given out regarding clothes and camp articles.

All who can be asked to bring their camp fees as this part of the work needs to be taken care of before the day camp starts.

FLOWERS FROM FEATHERS HAVE SUMMER REVIVAL—

Paris—(AP)—A revival of feather flowers is brightening up Paris costumes. The new bouquets are softer and more obviously made from plumes than were the rigid rather stiff flowers of a few months ago.
Nasturtiums, peonies, water lilies, anemones and sweet peas are copied in feathers of colors which approximate those of the natural blossoms. Because of their softness they can be worn under evening wraps without crushing.

ROBERT REED HOME FROM UNIVERSITY MICHIGAN—

Robert Reed of the University of Michigan, son of Mrs. Kirby Reed, is home for the summer vacation. Mr. Reed is specializing in interior decorating.

The WOMAN'S DAY by ALLENE SULLOY

It seems that the law can do nothing about a man who insists on having 13 children, maybe 14 or 15 or any number on up to 35 or more, whether or not his wife cares to help populate the earth on the same extravagant scale. Edward Cromwell was sent home to his children, his wife, who has had 13 and expects another, and his $26-a-week job, promising to be good and naively confessing that he didn't know just what he'd done or why he'd been detained in jail on a technical charge of "disturbing the peace."

CHANCE FOR LAW

It's too bad that the law, which often is so over-zealous in over-stepping its authority when it says what's good for us in the way of books and plays and movies and soap box orators, couldn't have overstepped its bounds a little in this case and given a practical demonstration of nearly every social worker's spoken or unspoken belief in the process known as sterilization. The very promise of Mr. Cromwell to "be good," though ignorant of his offense, indicates that both he and his wife and children would have thanked the law for its presumption.

MILICENT'S MAN

It seems that a poor man can marry a rich girl and hold down a good job in his own right, all the story books to the contrary. To wit, young Arturo Ramos, second and fairly recent husband of Millicent Rogers, heiress to the oil man's millions, whose martial escapes of Countess Salm engaged international interest. It seems that Ramos has a job in a brokerage house, gets down to work on time, works hard all day, and has cajoled some half million dollars worth of business into the fold of his own firm.

We always did suspect that the stories of the dry rot assailing rich wives' husbands were as fictitious as the supposed disaster which always overtakes rich girls who marry poor boys.

WHAT OF IT?

The marriage license clerk of one of our largest cities reports a decided shrinkage in the number of licenses issued. He blames "all this talk about companionate marriage and divorce, trial marriage, birth control and all new-fangled ideas of marriage" as reason for the slim business of his department.
Now there's an idea—a new one and perhaps a good one! If free and open discussion of marriage substitutions is making people stop, look and listen by reminding them of the seriousness of the responsibility they are about to assume, the bitterest critics of companionate marriage can hardly help admitting it has done some good. The decline of the number of marriages is in itself nothing to be alarmed at. What we need, maritally speaking, is quality and not quantity.

GAVE DAUGHTER CIGAR

Because he taught his little 1-year-old daughter how to smoke, John Lesser of Gettysburg, Pa., must appear with the child, Mary Eleanor, in court, and see if the court can find any just and good reason why Mary Eleanor should not be committed to a home.

Republican Women Are Rendering Good Account

BY MARTHA DALRYMPLE (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kansas City, Mo., June 13—(AP)—A weary lot they turned in, but women-like they all planned to get an early start today to see it all from the beginning of the second day's order of business.

The women Republicans of the country have so far played a creditable part in this quadrennial convention. They looked pretty and lent their colorful summers to the convention hall picture on the opening day, and then betook themselves to the little rooms, where the four committees on credentials, resolutions, rules and order of business and permanent organizations met in the afternoon.

Feminine noses never once became glossy as masculine coats were doffed in deference to the sultriness that blanketed Kansas City during the afternoon and evening of the first day.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant United States Attorney General, was selected as the permanent chairman of the important credentials committee, the only woman in the convention so far to hold the chairmanship of a committee.

She also holds the honor of being the first woman to address the convention from the platform. Temporary Chairman Fess called upon her to place the motion for the appointment of members for the credentials committee shortly after the committee motions were in order during the morning.

Calmly, undisturbed by the heat, the excess of manhood and the questioning political glances that filled the tiny committee room, Mrs. Willebrandt called the credentials group to order and with precision disposed of the roll call and the calling of the first case.

Of the other committees that met during the first afternoon, the rules and order of business committee boasted the largest representation of women, five women delegates being appointed to help conduct the business.

The committee on permanent organization contained one woman, Mrs. M. J. Caples of Virginia, while the important resolutions committee had no feminine representation upon it.

Though no women sat in judgment on the resolutions committee several appeared before it seeking to have their pet planks inserted in the platform.

Mrs. James W. Morrisson of Chicago spoke for the five-point plank sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

The feminine farm element was represented when farmers' wives joined their husbands in the demonstration of several hundred growers.

"We represent the sentiment of every woman in the farm bureau, even though not many of them could come," said Mrs. O. D. Silverthorn of Winterset, Iowa, who forsook her home and family duties to join her husband here in the fight for agricultural relief.

Mrs. Laura Irwin of St. Louis was present at the committee hearing representing the Unemployed Brotherhood Conference, in its effort to have a permanent federal building program included in the platform, for federal relief of the unemployed.

MRS. GILBERT AND MRS. GEHANT ENTERTAINED—

Mrs. Fred Gilbert and Mrs. H. L. Gehant entertained with six tables of cards Tuesday evening at the former's beautiful home, which was tastefully decorated in red and white for the occasion, peonies in profusion gracing the rooms. High prizes were won by Mrs. Martin Lenox and M. H. Hawkins, and consolation favors went to Mrs. Paul Schuck and Paul McGinnis, while Mrs. Wallace Hicks won the all-cut prize. Dainty refreshments added to the pleasure of the guests, who spent a most enjoyable evening.

To Flower Lovers

The national park service sends out its annual plea to motorists to leave the wild flowers alone.

There's a little kleptomaniac in the best of us, say the alienists, and this, coupled with our innate love of nature should make things seem tough for the indefensible flowers in our national and other forests.

But a little self-control, a little forethought, and our worse selves can easily be subdued.

Thousands of tourists in our national parks have been picking flowers to such an extent that the loss has become a matter of deep concern to the government officials. True, the pickers are innocent nature lovers, intending to embellish their motor cars or their rooms, or to be refreshed by the fragrance of the plants.

It is a sweet thought. But how much sweeter would it be to leave the flowers where they can continue to grow and let the air with their aroma rather than subject them to a short-lived and selfish pleasure.

Wild flowers die too soon, anyway.

Candlelighters Closed Successful Year

The Candle Lighters Aid Society of the Presbyterian church closed a very successful year last Friday and celebrated the event with a picnic dinner at the home of C. C. Buckaloo on the Rock Island road. A shower at noon made it necessary to serve the sumptuous repast in the dining room, but the afternoon was ideal and the lawn and great trees and delightful surroundings were thoroughly enjoyed.

TO ENTERTAIN FOR MRS. BASTAR THURSDAY—

Mrs. A. C. Warner is entertaining with a luncheon and motor ride to Mendota Thursday in honor of Mrs. A. A. Bastar, of Berwyn, who is visiting at the home of Judge and Mrs. Harry Edwards.

Westminster Guild Honored Miss Wood

The Westminster Guild of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a picnic supper at the church last evening and also held a miscellaneous shower for Miss Anna Wood, bride of the near future. She will soon wed Chester Clausen of Sterling.

The supper table presented a most attractive appearance in pretty decorations of orchid and green, with a miniature bridal party arranged at Miss Wood's place, and the white wedding cake baked by Mrs. Ralph Gonnemann, added much to the festive occasion.

Mrs. Gonnemann had charge of the Guild's study hour. During the evening Miss Wood was presented with a choice piece of silver from the Guild members with their best wishes for her happiness.

NEW HANDBAGS ARE ELECTRICALLY LIGHTED—

Paris—(AP)—The electric torch has been fitted with a handbag now so that fumbling in the dark for small change and lost beauty aids is unnecessary. The illuminated bags are particularly designed to benefit travelers, the first to appear being large leather creations with many pockets.

Tweeds and other masculine materials from the other side of the English Channel also are quite the rage for the new hand bags.

AGE BRINGS GIFTS, TOO.

When Dr. Voronoff, the gland expert, announced that he could rejuvenate people who had passed the three-score-and-ten mark and give them an added forty or fifty years of life, philosophers and others leaped on the subject eagerly and began to give voice.

Would the added years prove a blessing or otherwise? Everybody had an idea, and wanted to express it. At last, however, it occurred to a London newspaper to ask the people most intimately concerned—the very aged. It found about a dozen centenarians, and asked them if they would care to be rejuvenated and given two-score years more of life.

Almost without exception they replied that they would not. They had lived for a long time, they said, and were ready to die. Not willingly would they remain on this earth longer than nature intended. They had had about enough of it.

That seems, at first, rather surprising. The fear of death is an instinctive matter with most of us. We feel that whatever mischance may come, there is something to be thankful for if life is saved. Despite our religion and our fortitude, we cannot contemplate death unmoved.

Yet these aged Englishmen can. They say, in effect: "We have lived our lives, for better or for worse, and we do not care to go much farther with the job. We are ready to die and we are not asking for any reprieve."

Extreme age seems to bring a fundamental sort of wisdom. Apparently, when one nears the century mark one realizes that it is not added life that is one's great need; it is added skill in the handling of life. It becomes evident that it is not a tragedy that life has to end; the tragedy is that it so often has to be misused and wasted.

A recent writer in The Nation points out that the primitive Americans Indians had this idea. To them life was one long series of tests which tried a man's mettle and showed what he was good for. The Indians honored the aged because they felt the aged had met all of these tests and, accordingly, must be good men. They did not fear death, for it, too, was only a testing of a man's quality.

It is not to the gland experts that we must look for help. The Scriptural span of years is enough. Our problem is to make this allotted span richer, fuller and freer for ourselves and our neighbors.

THE POOR DEBS!

Shed a tear, if you have one to spare, for the poor, over-worked girl whose papa has a few million dollars and lives on Park avenue, New York.

Mrs. Emily Post, who specializes in etiquette, rushes to the defense of the busy debutante in an article in the forthcoming issue of Harper's Bazaar. After telling how busy the poor debutante is kept by social activities, she quotes one thus:

"Of course, we all know we'll be nervous wrecks at the end of the season and we'll have to go abroad to recuperate. Then some of us will come out again in London and be still more wrecked. Then we'll travel like mad—and be exhausted trying to keep our families away from sightseeing and cures. And then later we'll come back to Paris and spend hours looking at clothes and trying them on. After that we come back more wrecked than when we left home."

If that isn't a picture of misery and deprivation, we don't know what it is. Honestly, we feel so sorry for the poor girls we could cry. The wives and daughters of the striking coal miners and textile operatives don't know when they're well off.

We are wondering if Mrs. Levine is one to be asking Pilot Levine where he has been when he comes home late for dinner. Of course, he always might answer, "Oh, up in Mabel's plane."

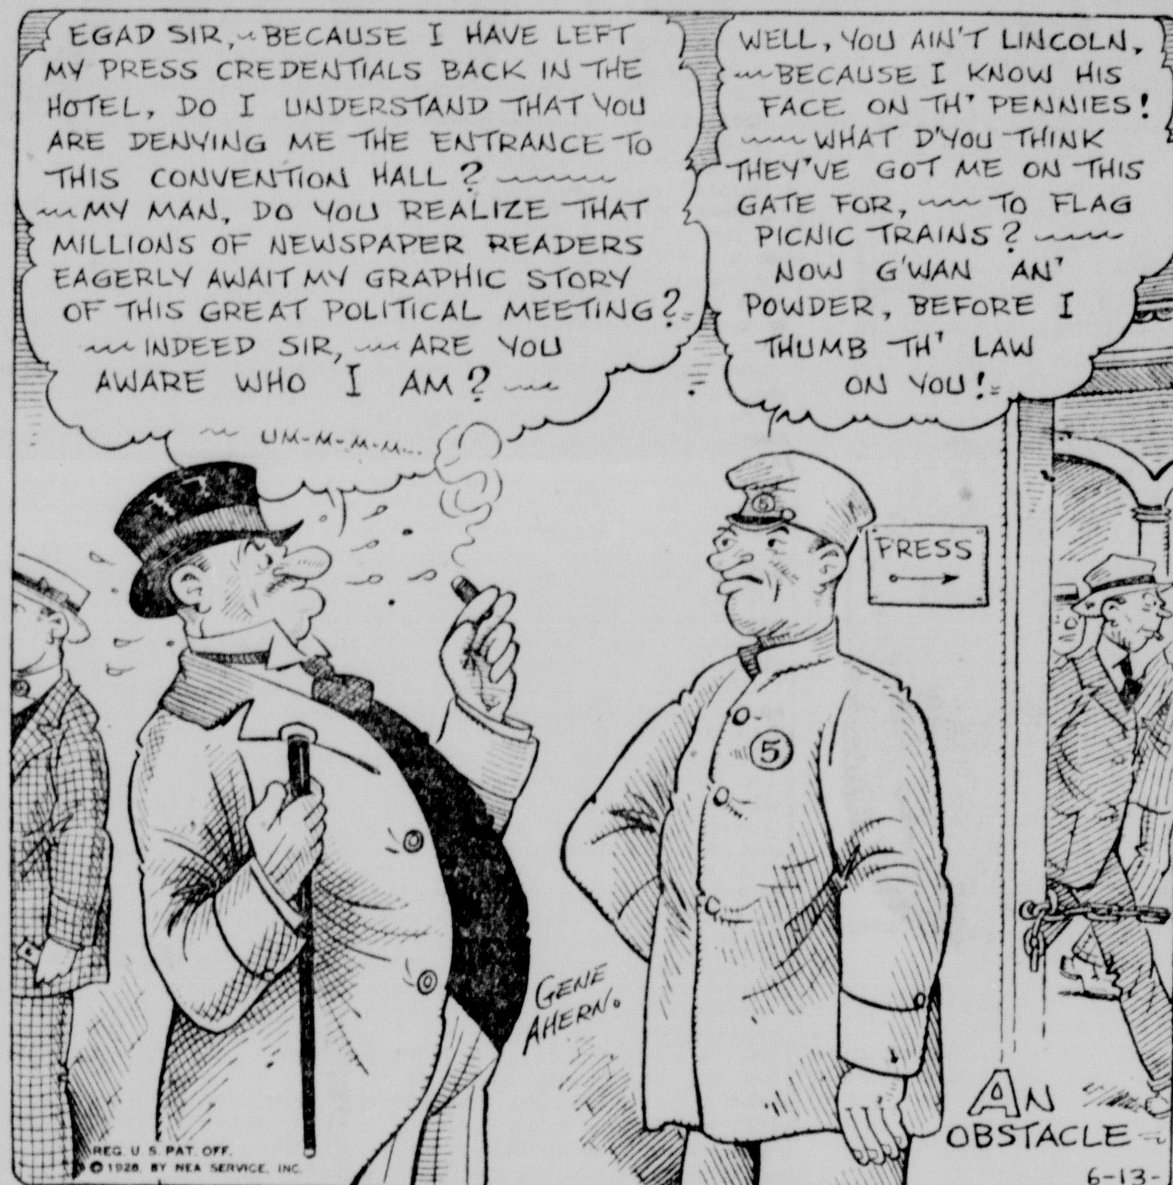

Chain stores are adopting talking sales machines. The next step is a mechanical traffic cop that says something like "Hey, is your name Helen Keller," with a few more choice words any golf player will be willing to supply.

"Miss Mobile" of Atlantic City fame in 1926 is indicted on a charge of setting a house on fire. One case where the name "hot mamma" is no asset.

Fifty women traffic experts meet in San Francisco, says a dispatch. Our grandmothers used to make jams, and now the ladies are undoing them.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNUCK

The Tiniemites slid for, oh, so long, and Coppy said, "There's something wrong. This chutes must have an end some place. I wonder where it is. We've traveled for a long, long ways. Supposing this keeps up for days. We all will grow real dizzy, judging from the way we whizz!" "Oh, what's the difference? This is fun," said Scouty. "I'm the only one who hasn't been complaining. We will surely land some place. That flying man was surely kind, and if we wait I know we'll find that we'll be paid real well for going on this crazy race."

And so the bunch kept still a while. They slid along, mile after mile. The chutes would rise up in the air, and then head down again. Each time they'd bound up over a peak, the Tiniemites would loudly shriek. They had a chance to catch their breath at straight spots, now and then. All of the Tiniemites seemed to know their houseboat had been right below the platform that they started from. Wee Carpy shouted, "Say I wish you all would please take note we will never find our boat. Instead of going near it, we are sliding far away."

"Oh, no we're not," we Scouty said, "cause I can see it just ahead. We're going 'round in circles and some good luck's due to come. This chute leads right down to our craft." This pleased the bunch and they all laughed. The slide had brought them right back to the place they started from. Just then fat Clowny left the slide, and landed on the boat. He cried, "Come on there, all you Tiniemites!" And the Tiniemites all roared, "Out of the way! We're coming fast." And they all landed, safe at last. Then Scouty cried, "We're set to sail, now that we're all aboard."

(The Tiniemites visit Midget Land in the next story.)

MARYE and "MOM" Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dearest Mom:

I know I am a trial to you, at times, and possibly, as you suggest, I am sometimes more than my husband bargained for when he so blithely escorted me to the altar. But I'm about to reform. Perhaps, after all, I have been riding for a fall, and deserved the slightly scrambled face I now exhibit.

As I told you, Cousin Julia came in on Alan and me just after our big scene, when we had all but hurled the crockery at each other. Alan was so furious with me, and with Pede, and with life generally that I think he would have ducked, had it been anyone but Julia.

She is a woman of poise, for she came into our troubled midst as though she were entering a calm re-their houseboat had been right below the platform that they started from. Wee Carpy shouted, "Say I wish you all would please take note we will never find our boat. Instead of going near it, we are sliding far away." "Oh, no we're not," we Scouty said, "cause I can see it just ahead. We're going 'round in circles and some good luck's due to come. This chute leads right down to our craft." This pleased the bunch and they all laughed. The slide had brought them right back to the place they started from. Just then fat Clowny left the slide, and landed on the boat. He cried, "Come on there, all you Tiniemites!" And the Tiniemites all roared, "Out of the way! We're coming fast." And they all landed, safe at last. Then Scouty cried, "We're set to sail, now that we're all aboard."

Just then fat Clowny left the slide, and landed on the boat. He cried, "Come on there, all you Tiniemites!" And the Tiniemites all roared, "Out of the way! We're coming fast." And they all landed, safe at last. Then Scouty cried, "We're set to sail, now that we're all aboard."

(The Tiniemites visit Midget Land in the next story.)

treat, and the way she poured oil on the troubled waters was nobody's business.

Alan and I were able to say quite rationally to her what we never could say to each other.

In my brief but brilliant career as a wife, I have learned that the hardest person to talk reasonably to is my own husband. I can wheedle him, I can scold him, I can jolly him and kid him, but when it comes to talking sense to him, at a time when a little common sense is needed, he never will listen.

We seem always to lose our tempers or become personal when we try to be reasonable. Then we have a violent quarrel. After the quarrel, we always have a reconciliation, but it is an emotional one rather than an intellectual one. And the real issue that caused our quarrel is never settled, and hangs there, dangling before our eyes, and furnishes material for another quarrel before long.

Julia took no sides and acted the role of the impartial and impassioned judge, who rendered no decision, just left it up to the contesting parties. But I felt just as Alan said he felt—like a cheap ham actor before the evening was over.

Julia agreed with you, that I have too much energy, and too little to do. She said it would be better for me to have a job that gave me some outlet for my activities, if I couldn't adjust my life without one.

But she also agreed with you, that since I had the time and the opportunity to develop myself and supplement my education here, it was too bad not to improve my opportunities, and be more myself, not just do more. So she is going to help me work out a scheme where I combine work and play and become one of these all-around persons. So watch out, I may be a knock-out yet!

Loads of love,
MARYE.

EMMERSON SEES HARD FIGHT TO CARRY ELECTION

Says Hoover's Nomination Will Make Race in State Closer

By WALTER T. BROWN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Kansas City, Mo., June 13—(AP)—Illinois faces the task of presenting its favorite son, Frank O. Lowden, the former Governor for the Republican Presidential nomination, realizing he is doomed to defeat.

But fact is the delegation will. "We'll present him and those who want to vote for him can, and those who do not can do as they please," said Clarence F. Buck of Monmouth, Ill., Mr. Lowden's campaign manager.

The utterance was echoed by Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Louis L. Emmerson of Mt. Vernon, Roy O. West, newly elected national committeeman, John H. Harrison, Danville publisher, and others.

With the delegation contests settled and the nomination fight virtually decided, most of the members of the delegation had their first breathing spell yesterday. Some of them, however, stuck pluckily to the job of trying to convince delegates of other states they should support Lowden. The Illinoisans on the convention committees worked all night to shape up the party platform and adjust credentials disputes.

Delegates, who as candidates for office face campaigns this fall are attempting to estimate what progress they can make with Hoover as head of the ticket.

Emmerson Worried.
Emmerson, who is seeking the Governorship, made no pretense of hiding his concern.

"The nomination of Hoover will make out state race closer, and our fight more spirited," he said.

The delegation members today were turning their thoughts towards home. A few hours after the convention adjourns most of them will be on their way back to their own bailiwicks.

George E. Keys of Springfield, with Mrs. Keys, intends driving down through the Ozarks on his way home.

The Thompson delegates will vote for President Coolidge. "He is our man and we will vote for him," said the Chicago Mayor, who claims he had 13 votes to toss into the "draft Coolidge" movement as forlorn an effort as that which would place Lowden at the top of the ballot.

As one delegate expressed it, "part of us are supporting a man who hasn't a chance and the other part is for a man not a candidate."

The delegation has given no consideration to a Vice Presidential nominee.

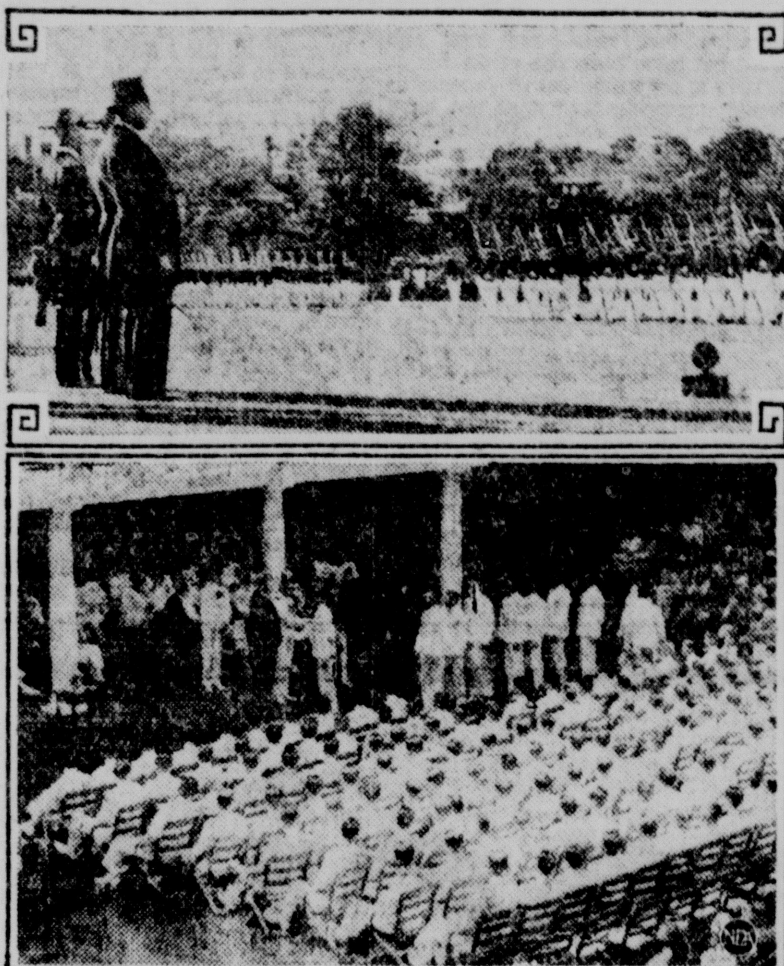

"To have done so would have embarrassed Governor Lowden's campaign," explained Senator Deneen. "We can determine that quickly after the Presidential nominee is chosen."

THE FRAMEWORK OF THE BODY.

The main difference in the appearance of people is produced by the shape of their bodily framework. If the bones were removed from a person's body, the flesh would fall into a shapeless mass very much as a tent falls down when the poles which support it are removed.

During infancy and childhood the bones are flexible and easily bent. As a child becomes older, the cartilage out of which the bones are first formed becomes filled with a lime substance and thereby becomes hard and brittle. After this hardening has occurred, it is exceedingly difficult to change the shape of bones without breaking them. For this reason, babies and children often sustain falls without serious injury which would completely disable an adult.

The positions of the body are controlled by the muscles which move the bones. It has been found that many children develop slight curvature of the spine from carrying their books habitually with the same arm, or from sitting at desks that are either too high or too low. The clothing of children may likewise interfere with the proper development of the bone. This is sometimes caused by tight belts, tight hats, and tight shoes. We all remember seeing pictures of Chinese women who had their feet bound as babies.

Special care should be taken that children form the habit of carrying their bodies erect while the bones are hardening. The shape of these bones may be altered to some extent until about the age of twenty-five.

When a bone is broken, the broken ends are soon covered with a jelly-like cement. In a few days this begins to harden, and it is very important that the broken bone be held in its correct position until this hardening process has been completed. A physician should be called to set the broken bone. If it is necessary to move the individual before the physician arrives, a pillow or blanket should be tied around the limb, and then boards or canes tied around the outside to keep it straight. If this is not done, there is danger of the powerful muscles pulling the two ends of the bone past each other, ripping through the muscles, blood vessels and nerves which surround it, and making a very serious, complicated fracture which is difficult to heal.

When the bones slip out of their sockets we have a dislocation. In some people, these joint sockets are very shallow, and the bones may be dislocated without breaking the ligaments. With most people, some of the ligaments are torn at the time of dislocation, inducing a very painful joint. A dislocated bone must be put back into its place and kept there until the ligaments are firmly re-established. In some joints, such as the finger, it is possible for the average person to stretch the joint and allow it to slip back into its proper place, but usually a physician should set the more important joints.

In sprains, some of the ligaments or fibres are broken or torn loose. Both dislocated and sprained joints should be bathed in either hot or cold water or, better still, in hot and cold water alternately. This keeps down the swelling and reduces the pain.

A dislocated or sprained joint should not be kept entirely at rest. Lightly exercising it, even though painful, keeps up a good circulation through the part, and this carries away the congested blood and dead tissue, hastening the healing process.

Once a dislocation has taken place, it is very easy for that joint to slip out of its normal position again.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

QUESTION: H. V. writes: "I have a friend who, three years ago, was in a sanitarium for tuberculosis. She has been home for three years and is a frequent visitor in my home. She has a habit of kissing my children. She claims she is cured, but do you think there is danger to the children or to myself in having this lady visit us?"

ANSWER: Authorities now claim that only one out of one hundred is susceptible to tuberculosis through kissing. As ten out of every hundred deaths are from tuberculosis, it is apparent that there is some other more important cause. Keep your children strong and healthy by proper care, and they need not fear infection from any source.

QUESTION: Mrs. D. H. J. asks: "Are onions, kidneys, and liver harmful foods? If not, what is the particular usefulness of each?"

ANSWER: The onions are too gassy, and kidneys and liver have their best use while in the living body of the animal.

QUESTION: Constant Reader asks: "What causes a young man to take cold so easily, and to be troubled with boils. Tonsils and adenoids removed a year ago. Has good appetite, sleeps well, but does not gain weight and always has a pale, yellow color. If this means a run-down condition, what tonic would be advisable?"

ANSWER: Do not depend upon the removal of tonsils and adenoids to cure boils. The toxic cause of the boils and the enlarged tonsils is the same. The yellow color will disappear as soon as the blood stream is thoroughly cleaned of waste matter. A bodily house-cleaning is what this young man needs, and not a "tonic." I will be glad to send an article called "A Cleansing Diet" if you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

COMMERCE NEWS

TANNING INDUSTRY GROWS
Washington —(AP)—Approximately 70 percent of the total goat and kid leather produced in the world is tanned in the United States, says the Department of Commerce. This country imports 99 percent of its supply, chiefly from Asiatic countries, Mexico and Central America.

FARMERS USE CURRENT
Paris —(AP)—French farmers in increasing numbers are using electric current. The central government provides subsidies for electrical development and often townships organize syndicates. When the seasonal demand is heavy the farmers take turns using power, operating their threshing machines on different days.

BUS TRAFFIC GROWS
Berlin —(AP)—Germany likes the motor bus and the "Kraftverkehr Deutschland," an alliance of motor transport lines, carried more than 49,000,000 passengers last year alone, an increase of 53 percent over the 1926 patronage. The company operates nearly 1,000 busses and 800 freight trucks.

AFRICA SHIPS PEARS
London —(AP)—Arrival recently of a large shipment of canned pears from South Africa has disclosed a growing source of supply. Cape Town has become the largest shipping port for canned fruit, with Port Elizabeth ranking high in shipping pineapples.

CITY IS AMBITIOUS
WINNIPEG —(AP)—Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, is rapidly winning the reputation of being the most ambitious city in Western Canada. It has a population of only 30,000, yet spent $3,215,995 for building and construction last year and is expected to spend $4,000,000 more this year.

YACHT BUILDING COMPLEX
New York —(AP)—It is estimated that 200 different trades are employed in building the modern pleasure yacht. More than 150 participate in shipyard work and 60 more are needed to decorate the craft.

NEW PRESERVING METHOD
Berlin —(AP)—Karl Hessel, a German engineer who has devoted his life to the study of fruit and vegetable chemistry, has developed a method of preserving whereby fruits and vegetables are reduced to dry powder, which is pressed into a briquet. In preparing for use, the briquet is dissolved in water and the substance and taste are revived.

NEW CLOTHING DARKER
Leeds —(AP)—Cleaning establishments are wondering if the demand for darker colors in clothing material will curtail their business. Bright colors, which found favor during the past year, have been abandoned because of fading.

WORLD IS CHEWING GUM
Washington —(AP)—American gum is making the jaws of every nation chew. For each man, woman and child in this country, it is estimated that 100 sticks a year are used. American soldiers overseas during the world war exposed much of the rest of the world to the habit. Great Britain has become the best customer, followed by The Netherlands, Mexico and the Philippines, but with Japan, China and Siam not so far behind.

FEW TRACTORS IN BRITAIN
London —(AP)—Less than 20,000

tractors are used in Great Britain, only a few more than before the world war, and the number appears to be decreasing. About 90 percent are American-made, and most are used on farms. Return of areas to grass after war-time cultivation for food crops, decline in the price of horses and a surplus of available hand labor are regarded as factors tending to halt the advance of the mechanical draft horse.

NOW the Holland Vaporaire Deluxe for fine homes offers all advantages of large heating-cooling systems used in modern theaters, hospitals and schools. A simple, compact plant of reasonable price and low operating cost constantly circulates clean, filtered air—warm or cool, depending on the season—through every room, changing the atmosphere of the whole house many times an hour. Heating response is immediate. The electric Super-Sirculator forces warmth in measured volumes to every part of the home and eliminates forced firing even in severe weather. Thermostatically controlled temperature need never vary more than two degrees. The saving in fuel helps pay for the system. Two firings daily—three minutes morning and night—is all of the attention required.

Proper humidity, maintained automatically, eliminates the chief cause of colds. Air is kept on the march. It teems with life and energy. Floors are warm and draft-free all winter. Summer heat holds no terror. Filtered air is forced by the Super-Sirculator to all parts of the house. The cooling effect is equivalent to an electric fan in every room. The system, built to last a lifetime, may be installed in any size home, new or old. It is tried, proved and guaranteed by written bond. Every installation is made under factory supervision to meet the individual needs of the home it serves. Purchase may be made by deferred payments. # HOOVER AND WHO MAIN QUESTION AT K. C. TODAY

Discussion of Vice-Presidential Nomination is Brisk

BY BYRON PRICE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kansas City, June 13—(AP)—Party issues, with farm relief towering in their midst, jostled party candidates into the background of the Republican Convention picture today as the delegates were called together for their second session in convention hall.

Preceded by many and varying reports, the shock troops of the McNary-Haugen farmers were in the center of the convention fray at last in the form of a band of some three hundred demonstrators, who after a night of noise-making were threatening to keep up to the end their protest against the now-conceded nomination of Hoover and their demand for a satisfactory relief plank in the platform.

For the time being, the shaping of all of the party planks was in the hands of a sub-committee of fifteen, still groping for an agreement after long night hours of argument. Meanwhile, the convention itself, waiting for the recommendations of its committee, had to be content with a bill of fare made up, like yesterday's, of oratory and formalities. The only business immediately at hand was the installation of Senator George Moses of New Hampshire as permanent chairman of the convention and the handing in of reports of various lesser committees.

Night Meetings
While the platform sub-committee labored with its devious problems through the night and into today the credentials committee also was burning midnight oil over the cases of a group of contesting delegations whose right to sit in the convention had been appealed after an adverse decision by the national committee. This committee's report also is expected at today's convention session.

Among the great bulk of the delegates not kept busy with committee work there was a continuing buzz of discussion today over the question of a nominee for the Vice Presidency. With the head of the ticket regarded as already selected, second place booms blossomed out on every side and the Hoover campaign slogan, "Who But Hoover?" was given by the delegates themselves a companion query in the form of "Hoover and Who?"

While some party managers still hope to have both first and second places on the ticket decided and the convention adjourned by tomorrow night, there were indications today that determination of the Vice Presi-

Talk About Purity in Art

Nice clean sculpture, this. It's real art, 44-100 per cent pure. Of course, if you don't like it, you can wash your hands of the whole business. They're winners in a Proctor & Gamble competition of small sculptures in soap, now being shown in New York. The head of Silvie Deryn MacDermott, left, won first honors in the professional class. Upper right is a clean-cut likeness of Lindy; below is a doggy little piece called "Speed."

dential nomination, at least, might go over until Friday.

Senator Moses, the new chairman, contributed to a speeding up of convention procedure by keeping his prepared inaugural speech so brief as to almost set a record. He predicted also that should the platform committee fail to have its report ready on time today the convention might upset its pre-arranged program and occupy the waiting period by listening to some of the score or so of nominating and seconding speeches heretofore listed for delivery tomorrow.

To Nominate All
It appeared that Hoover, Lowden, Curtis, Watson, Norris and Goff all would be placed in nomination, despite the turn of events toward a first-ballot nomination, and the speeches placing all of them before the convention will take hours.

Showing up this morning after their late vigil, members of the two night-working committees found they had no monopoly on sleep-heavy eyes and lagging steps. Among the Hoover workers, who saw victory in yesterday's accession of the Pennsylvania votes to the ranks of their candidate, the night had been a night of celebration.

In the let-down after weeks of nervous tension Hoover's stalwarts kept the streets and hotel lobbies resounding until the morning hours with their pangs of exultation. They fitted up a double-decked bus with canvas sides bearing likeness of Hoover and the Republican elephant, put a band on top, labelled it "The Hoover Bandwagon," and trundled it through the hotel section to an accompaniment of jazz and cheering.

To Protest Nomination
At the headquarters of all of the allied candidates against Hoover the official motto was "business as usual," but business was not brisk. Those who gathered for consultation turned over in their minds all sorts of proposals for giving visible evidence of their protest against the nomination of their common antagonist.

One suggestion was that the Lowden-Curtis-Watson-Norris-Goff delegates unite on a single candidate, and give him their undivided support on the nomination roll call to demonstrate their desire and ability to hold their lines to the end. One delegate suggested that the entire allies' block absent itself from at least one session of the convention, so that stretches of empty seats could testify mutely against Hoover. The handful of non-Partisan League delegates from North Dakota talked openly of a bolt, disagreeing with the unanimous sentiment of allied leaders, that while the coalition forces should live up to the name of irrepressibles, they must not become irreconcilables.

There was no evidence that any of these discussions would lead anywhere.

Her Tonsils

By Edward King, M. D., Cincinnati, Ohio Member Gorgas Memorial Institute

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.)

"I've never been to a doctor and I'm not going to start now," said Mrs. F. with pride. She had been complaining of headaches, pain in her back, and a general tired feeling for over two years. Being thirty-nine she attributed all her troubles to her age and was content to suffer with backaches, until her husband compelled her to see his physician. After a thorough examination the doctor found her to be underweight with rather high blood pressure and a low grade anemia. Even after x-ray, however, he found no cause for the backache. Following the doctor's advice she saw her dentist for dental x-rays and an ear, nose and throat specialist to see if there were any pus pockets producing her symptoms.

The x-ray of her nose showed nothing abnormal so she had her nose and throat examined. The sinuses were clear but the nose and throat specialist found he could squeeze a thin greenish yellow pus from each tonsil. After learning from the family doctor that her other examinations were negative, the specialist advised removal of the tonsils.

"But I've never had a sore throat in my life," said Mrs. F. in great surprise. "You have the most dangerous type of tonsils," exclaimed her doctor. Patients with frequent sore throat have them removed. It is the tonsils producing no symptoms or remote ones, that accumulate poison until the heart, kidneys, or some other vital organ is affected, that prove most serious. After much persuasion Mrs. F. consented to the simple operation. In two weeks time her symptoms of two years duration disappeared. Very often the physician is unable to determine definitely whether or not the trouble comes from the tonsils. The operation is necessary in order to eliminate that area as a focus of infection. In the light of recent investigations we know that the operation is done at times without benefit to the patient. However, we do know, just as in the case of the appendix, that there is less danger in the operation in the vast majority of cases than in withholding it. Your physician will be honest enough to say what he would do himself or advise one of the members of his family to do under the same circumstances. No doctor has a secret method of determining the cause of disease. Modern methods are well known by all physicians, likewise the limitations, so that no one individual can justly claim a secret process. All worthwhile efforts are published and tried out before they are accepted as valuable.

Mrs. F. had a thorough physical examination which disclosed that she had a focus of infection. No medicine was given but an attempt was made by logical measures to eliminate the cause of her trouble. If the operation had not done this she would not have been the worse for it. There is no treatment or process in modern medicine that does not have a common sense basis. The days of charms and witchcraft are gone. We must realize that our bodies are smooth-running machines and that we must use our practical business sense to help well-trained doctors keep them in working order.

To Show Proper Way to Extinguish Fire

Urbana, Ill., June 13—(AP)—Demonstrations in the proper use of fire fighting equipment, including rescue work and other problems that daily confront a fire department, are to be made at the fourth annual short course on fire prevention, control and extinguishment at the University of Illinois June 19-22. Fire chiefs, mayors and other interested officials are being urged to attend by S. L. Legreid, state fire marshal. Interest in the school this year is expected to increase with the erection of a training and drill tower for which an appropriation was made by the last regular general assembly. No fee is charged for the course. It is sponsored jointly by the University of Illinois, state fire marshal Legreid, and the Illinois Firemen's Association.

The program for the opening day consists of registration and two addresses, one by Milo S. Ketchum, dean of the college of engineering, and the other by Mr. Legreid. Harry K. Rogers, engineer of the western actuarial bureau, Chicago, will give a first aid and rescue lecture, followed by a demonstration and instruction in first aid.

Two lectures and general discussions will be held on Wednesday, led by Edward F. Clark, Rockford, and Captain J. J. Conway, Cincinnati. Chicago firemen will give a demonstration on uses of the training tower. Thursday the visiting chiefs and mayors will hear D. J. Price, engineer of the U. S. bureau of chemistry and soils, Washington, discuss spontaneous combustion. A demonstration will be made on automatic sprinkler installation and operation. Chicago's fire fighters will be called upon to demonstrate the use of the various fire fighting equipment. The theory and importance of ventilating burning buildings will be discussed by Mr. Rogers. Fred Shepperd, managing editor of "Fire Engineering" New York, a magazine for fire chiefs, will discuss fire department hydraulics. Mr. Shepperd and a group of assistants will conclude the course with a demonstration of the use of equipment.

45,000 MAN POWER

"WHAT OF IT?... What if the Dunlop team is 45,000 strong? What does that mean to me and my car?"

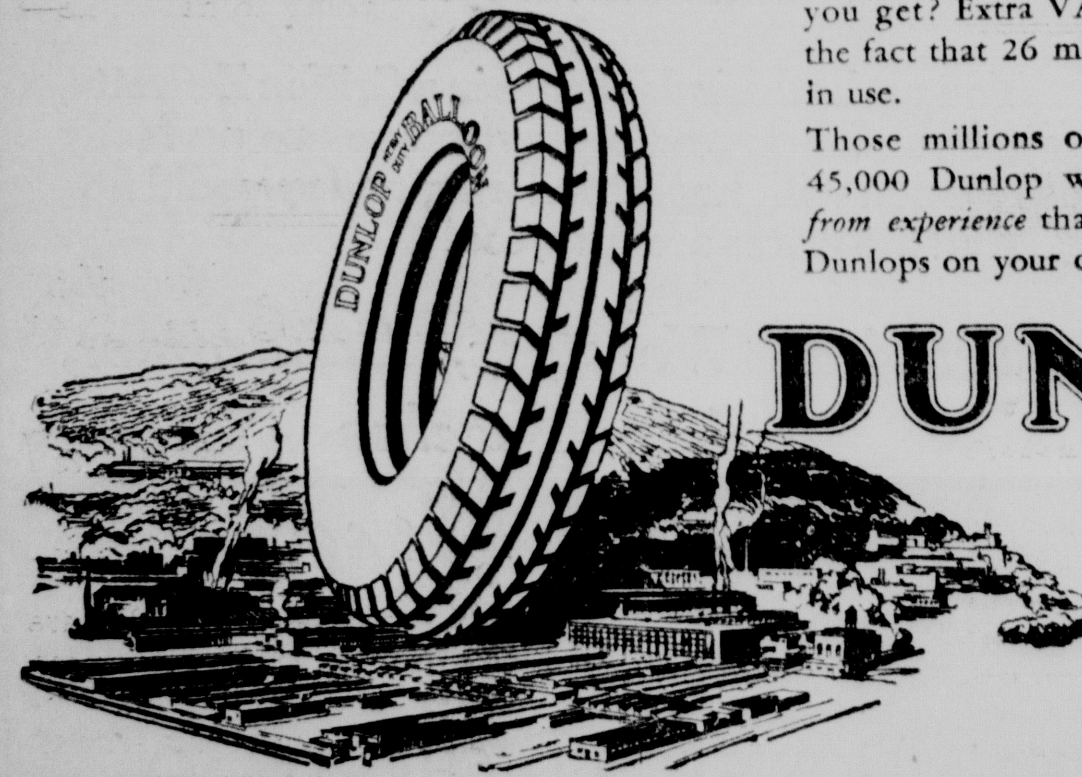

More VALUE in the tires you buy.... that's what the immensity of Dunlop means to you.

Dunlop engineers have continually blazed the trail in tire inventions. They have pioneered in practically every major tire improvement, including the drop-center rim as used on the new Fords. Eighteen world records confirm Dunlop's engineering skill.

Combine 40 years' experience with 45,000 craftsmen and you have the world's greatest tire knowledge. Combine this knowledge with the finest materials... what do you get? Extra VALUE, as evidenced by the fact that 26 million Dunlops are now in use.

Those millions of motorists, and those 45,000 Dunlop workers—they all know from experience that it will pay you to put Dunlops on your car.

NIGHT SESSIONS FAIL TO EVOLVE PARTY PLATFORM

Sub-Committee is Still Un- decided on Some of Main Planks

Kansas City, Mo., June 13—(AP)—The Borah plank in the Republican platform, calling for "vigorous enforcement" of the 18th amendment, was adopted early today by the Republican convention resolutions sub-committee of 15.

Under the head of "law enforcement" the plank reads as follows: "We reaffirm the American constitutional doctrine as announced by George Washington in his 'farewell address' to wit: 'the Constitution which at any time exists until changed by the expressed and authentic act by the whole people is sacredly obligatory upon all.'"

"We also reaffirm the attitude of the American people toward the federal Constitution as declared by Abraham Lincoln: 'we are by both duty and inclination bound to stick to that Constitution in all its letter and spirit from beginning to end. I am for the honest enforcement of the Constitution. Our safety, our liberty depends upon preserving the Constitution of the United States, as our forefathers made it inviolate.'"

"The people through the method provided by the Constitution have written the eighteenth amendment into the Constitution. The Republican party pledges itself and its nominees to the observance and vigorous enforcement of this provision of the Constitution."

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kansas City, June 13—(AP)—Having labored through the long night hours a sub-committee of the platform-making body of the Republican National Convention pushed forward its work today in the hope of getting a report before the entire committee during the mid-forenoon.

Locking themselves up in a room in the Kansas City Athletic Club shortly before midnight, the fifteen delegates renewed the controversies which furnished colorful public sessions yesterday afternoon and early last night, with the prohibition and farm relief planks as the rubbings.

The discussion on prohibition revolved largely around the question of whether the eighteenth amendment should be identified by name in the enforcement plank.

Fight to Convention

Whatever the outcome of the differences in the committee, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, threatened to carry the wet and dry issue to the floor of the convention.

Senator Borah, a member of the sub-committee, was insistent that not only should no repeal proposal go into the plank but that the party should declare emphatically for enforcement of the 18th amendment.

While several hundred farmers who invaded the committee room during the public hearing demanded an equalization fee farm relief declaration through their appointed spokesmen, this issue was not so much to the fore in the sub-committee as the preponderance of sentiment in that body was against that form of farm relief.

Proposals Unpopular

However, some of those on the entire committee insisted that the administration plank for federal aid for cooperative marketing organizations and a declaration for an upward revision of the tariff on farm products would prove insufficient. They, too, made threats of a fight on the convention floor if necessary.

After the sub-committee has completed its labors, the platform draft will be submitted to the entire committee which may consume many hours in whipping into form the platform upon which the party will ask the country to return it to control of government in the November elections.

Should this prove to be the case the platform could not be presented to the convention before tomorrow unless the leaders decided upon a

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Carthage, Ill. —(AP)—Competing with hundreds of other university students, Robert Sifferd, a freshman at Carthage College, was selected as one of the six college men to be awarded a $300 prize for his essay on chemistry by the American Chemical Society. It was the society's fifth annual contest, in which $6,000 in prizes was offered.

Sifferd chose as the theme of his paper, "The Relation of Chemistry to the Home." He has studied chemistry since last September at Carthage under the tutelage of Dean W. K. Hill, head of the department. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Sifferd of Carthage, and was an honor student in the Carthage high school.

The contest awards included six prizes of $500, six of $300, and six of $200. Among the judges was Herbert Hoover, presidential candidate, and chairman of the awards committee.

RELEASED FROM LEE CO. PRISON NOW IN MORRISON

A. M. Craig is Turned Over to Whiteside County Officials

Morrison, Ill.—"Two bottle" Frantz, as he has come to be known due to the fact that he nearly always has two bottles of alleged liquor, one full and the other not so full—when picked up by officers, was taken into custody Sunday by representatives of the sheriff's office at Erie. Frantz's given name, other than the one given him by those familiar with his habits is Ed, and he hails from near Prophetstown. About three weeks ago he completed a jail sentence, and again at liberty went to Moline where he replenished his supply of the trouble-making liquid with the above result.

At 6 o'clock Sunday morning, when his sentence in the Lee county jail at Dixon was completed, Amatus M. Craig was again turned over to Whiteside county officers and is now in the county bastille here. Craig was originally indicted in 1925, along with two others from Dixon, while engaged in making a delivery of alleged illegal beverages to a Sterling party. The other two straightened out their entanglements with the law, but Craig, who was fined $1,000, left his bondsmen in the lurch and has since been investigating climates of other zones other than his own. Recently he came home and staged a little party, resulting in a twenty day sentence in the jail at Dixon being meted out to him. As a result of his behavior three years ago he will now be confined until the $1,000 fine is settled, or until some circuit judge takes pity on him and releases him, as a fine levied in circuit court is unlike one ordered by a justice court in that it cannot be boarded out at a certain allowance per day.

John Copponi, age 38, and George Mathovich, one year his senior, were taken into custody when their automobile aroused the suspicions of officers and was found to contain 70 gallons of alleged alkyl. Their capture occurred a short distance east of Morrison on the Lincoln highway. Their Star coupe bearing an Iowa license. They claimed to be from Des Moines, but further inquiry proved they were from Chicago. Their cargo was to be delivered in Iowa, they said. Friends of the two from Chicago were here and have returned to the windy city to raise money for their release. They are held under $2,000 bail each. It is now believed that the pair will go into county court Friday of this week, plead guilty and take their medicine from Judge Blodgett.

DeKalb Man Took Life Monday Night

DeKalb—The body of Albert Bear, 68, resident of DeKalb for more than 40 years, was found suspended in his rooming house Monday night. Although no note was found, all evidence indicated suicide. He had been dead for nearly 24 hours, according to physicians who examined the body.

The motive that led to the tragedy is unknown.

Friend Finds Body

Bear, an expert die-maker, had spent Sunday with friends outside the city. He seemed in usual good spirits on returning home Sunday night and retired to his room. A friend, Gus Eklund, discovered the body on entering the apartment Monday night.

Coroner R. P. Culver, who was appointed to the office by the county board Monday afternoon after the resignation of Coroner C. H. Wilkinson had been announced, took charge of the body.

Bear was unmarried and had no relatives in this vicinity.

Campaigns of Former Years

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) Grover Cleveland of New York was nominated for president by the democratic national convention of 1884, meeting at Chicago, July 8-11, and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana for vice president. Hendricks had been vice presidential nominee eight years before.

The republican party met June 3-6 at Chicago, the rank and file demanding nomination of James G. Blaine for the presidency. He was chosen, and Gen. John A. Logan of Illinois was selected for vice president.

Blaine was styled "the Plumed Knight", and republican marching clubs wore plumes in their hats during the campaign. But lack of support from an influential group in his own party, the "stalwarts" headed by Senators Conkling and Platt, weakened him, and his defeat was helped by the unfortunate use, on the eve of the election, of the phrase "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion", employed by one of his supporters to characterize the opposition.

Blaine was for years the idol of his party, but like Webster and Clay before him and Bryan after, he never got to be president. Cleveland was elected, the first democrat to win since Buchanan.

"Farmers Want Justice"

M. J. Tobin, Republican farm leader of Vinton, Ia., was making an emphatic speech about justice for the farmers when this NEA photo was snapped. He is working for a strong declaration in the platform on farm relief.

"CHIPS FROM WASHINGTON"

Washington Bureau.
The Evening Telegraph.
Room 116 House Office Building,
June 11, 1928.

If Andy Mellon would only tell we'd know, wouldn't we? By the time this letter appears in The Telegraph perhaps Andy will have spoken.

Down here with us, it's Cal.

I am going to listen to the convention talk over a radio which will be placed in the large Majority room of the House. I'll be there most of the time.

Congressman Johnson left for the convention Sunday afternoon. He is one of the Lowden boosters. Durn it, I hope the Colonel wins. It would mean so much for Dixon and our state. Let everybody from Illinois pull for Lowden. But down East everyone keeps saying, "Lowden has not a chance." Maybe so, but regardless of what anyone says, he would make a mighty good president.

Cal and Grace are all ready for Wisconsin. Tickets are bought and the boys in the railroad yards are making up the train. The President knows what is going to happen, so he is not worrying a great deal. Well, if it is Cal, he'll be elected.

Hoover's Son

Allen Hoover, youngest son of Herbert Hoover, is one of the most interested spectators at the G. O. P. convention in Kansas City. Naturally he is confident his dad will be nominated.

200,000 miles, and is still in good working fettle. With its early form of chain drive, crude iron tires and one horsepower motor, it registers a top speed of eight miles an hour.

That his new auto is the smallest in the world and will attain a speed of 17 miles an hour are the claims of the builder, Jans Schultz, a German mechanic. The machine weighs only 20 pounds and has a four-cylindered water-cooled gasoline engine, clutch, differential, accelerator and brakes. It is controlled by a set of strings because it is too small for even a child to get into.

Coinage of the mints of the United States during the month of May amounted to 20,326,000 pieces of domestic money and 790,000 pieces of foreign governments. The coinage of United States money aggregated $31-

Gold—Double eagle, 1,575,000 pieces; Silver—Half dollars, 210,000 pieces; Minor—Five cent nickel, 4,845,000 pieces; one cent bronze, 13,696,000 pieces; total, 18,541,000 pieces.

Total domestic coinage, 20,326,000 pieces.

Coinage other than United States: Ecuador, silver, 240,000 pieces; Nicaragua, silver, 250,000 pieces; Nicaragua, silver, 250,000 pieces; Nicaragua, silver, 250,000 pieces.

The first session of the Seventieth Congress left the following record of national accomplishments:

Passed a tax reduction law, cutting $22,495,000 from income taxes.

Enacted Mississippi flood control act, with an authorization of $325,000,000.

Passed law to encourage development of American merchant marine, including a $250,000,000 new construction loan fund.

Completed necessary legislation for the return of alien property still held by this country and for the settlement of American claims growing out of the World War.

Both branches of Congress passed the resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals, but was not signed by the President.

The McNary-Haugen farm relief measure, containing the controversial equalization fee, passed Congress again at the session and was again vetoed by the President. By subsequent vote the Senate refused to override the veto.

Enacted a postal rate revision measure.

Made annual appropriation for all governmental purposes. The annual supply bills amounted to $3,233,540,162.04, while fixed charges, including interest on the public debt, amounted to $1,388,753,735.52, making a total of $4,622,293,897.56.

Passed a law increasing the capital of the Inland Waterways Corporation and extending facilities of government barge lines.

Enacted, over the President's veto, the disabled emergency officers' retirement bill, placing the great number of World War officers of this class on an equality with regular officers.

Enacted, over the President's veto, a bill to give additional pay for night work to 50,000 postal and railway mail clerks.

Passed, over the veto, a bill granting extra allowances to fourth-class postmasters.

our forefathers made it inviolate'.
"The people through the method provided by the Constitution have written the eighteenth amendment into the Constitution. The Republican party pledges itself and its nominees to the observance and vigorous enforcement of this provision of the Constitution."

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Kansas City, June 13.—(AP)— Having labored through the long night hours a sub-committee of the platform-making body of the Republican National Convention pushed forward its work today in the hope of getting a report before the entire committee during the mid-forenoon.
Locking themselves up in a room in the Kansas City Athletic Club shortly before midnight, the fifteen delegates renewed the controversies which furnished colorful public sessions yesterday afternoon and early last night, with the prohibition and farm relief planks as the nubbins.
The discussion on prohibition revolved largely around the question of whether the eighteenth amendment should be identified by name in the enforcement plank.

Fight to Convention
Whatever the outcome of the differences in the committee, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, threatened to carry the wet and dry issue to the floor of the convention.

Senator Borah, a member of the sub-committee, was insistent that not only should no repeal proposal go into the plank but that the party should declare emphatically for enforcement of the 18th amendment.
While several hundred farmers who invaded the committee room during the public hearing demanded an equalization fee farm relief declaration through their appointed spokesmen, this issue was not so much to the fore in the sub-committee as the preponderance of sentiment in that body was against that form of farm relief.

Proposals Unpopular
However, some of those on the entire committee insisted that the administration plank for federal aid for cooperative marketing organizations and a declaration for an upward revision of the tariff on farm products would prove insufficient.
They, too, made threats of a fight on the convention floor if necessary.

After the sub-committee has completed its labors, the platform draft will be submitted to the entire committee which may consume many hours in whipping into form the platform upon which the party will ask the country to return it to control of government in the November elections.

Should this prove to be the case the platform could not be presented to the convention before tomorrow unless the leaders decided upon a

Carthage, Ill.—(AP)—Competing with hundreds of other university students, Robert Sifferd, a freshman at Carthage College, was selected as one of the six college men to be awarded a $300 prize for his essay on chemistry by the American Chemical Society. It was the society's fifth annual contest, in which $6,000 in prizes was offered.
Sifferd chose as the theme of his paper, "The Relation of Chemistry to the Home." He has studied chemistry since last September at Carthage under the tutelage of Dean
W. K. Hill, head of the department.
He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Sifferd of Carthage, and was an honors student in the Carthage high school.

The contest awards included six prizes of $500, six of $300, and six of $200. Among the judges was Herbert Hoover, presidential candidate, and chairman of the awards committee.

Lake Forest, Ill.—(AP)—Dr. J. G.
K. McClure, retiring head of the Mc-Cormick Theological Seminary, will deliver the Bross Lectures at Lake Forest college in 1928-1929, college officials have announced.

The Bross lectures were established in 1879 by the late William Bross of Chicago. Many distinguished men have delivered the lectures at Lake

COMPTON NEWS

Compton—Mr. and Mrs. W. L.
Petters are planning to move to Rollo some time next month, where they have accepted the offer made by the Board of Directors of the Township high school there. They will occupy the fine home "built by the school, where the teachers board during the school session, also have charge of the Janitor work for the high school building.

Forty some settings of pheasant's eggs were received by interested parties here last week from the State game farms at McHenry, Ill.

L. E. Bradshaw and son Rex have returned after spending several days in Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie M. Corwin, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knauer journeyed to Chicago Sunday where they attended the American League Baseball game. Mr. Jesse Fox and son Ivan accompanied by R.

M. Carnahan, Arthur Chaon and Max Burley also spent the day enjoying the home runs made by the Yankee Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hammerton of East Lynn, Ill., spent a few days with Jesse Fox and family.

H. K. Lehmer grading contractor for the Meridian Highway moved his construction camp from the Bureau Bridge location to a new site north of town on the Adrian homestead, where he will remain until the completion of the grading.

Mr. Max Bradshaw and wife from Madison, Wis., were here over Sunday visiting his mother, Mrs. Mae Bradshaw.

L. D. Miller won the Declaration day tournament cup from J. S. Archer one day this week. This match has been pending since the tournament and so one day last week they met and decided to play off the honors. By winning this cup will eliminate Mr. Miller from further competition in tournaments this season, although it will not hinder Mr. Archer competing in future tournaments.

Mrs. Ted Regenhart and Mrs. E.
A. Andrews are spending a few days with relatives at Cape Girardeau, Missouri.

Miss Lucille Cook and Miss Flor-

Sunday after completion of a years college work at Rockford.

Miss Bernadine Beemer and Dean Leake were happily married at the Congregational parsonage at Amboy,
Saturday at 9 o'clock, by Rev. Grink.
Dale Beemer, the bride's brother and Mrs. Leake stood up for them. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Roy Beemer of this place, and has been engaged in teaching school near Sublette for the past three years. The groom is the son of Mrs. Leake of Amboy, and travels for the Austin-

RELEASED FROM LEE CO. PRISON NOW IN MORRISON

A. M. Craig is Turned Over to Whiteside County Officials

Morrison, Ill.—"Two bottle" Prantz, as he has come to be known due to the fact that he nearly always has two bottles of alleged liquor, one full and the other not so full—when picked up by officers, was taken into custody Sunday by representatives of the sheriff's office at Erie. Prantz's given name, other than the one given him by those familiar with his habits is Ed, and he hails from near Prophetstown. About three weeks ago he completed a jail sentence, and again at liberty went to Moline where he replenished his supply of the trouble-making liquid with the above result.

At 6 o'clock Sunday morning, when his sentence in the Lee county jail at Dixon was completed, Amatus M. Craig was again turned over to Whiteside county officers and is now in the county house here. Craig was originally indicted in 1925, along with two others from Dixon, while engaged in making a delivery of alleged illegal beverages to a Sterling party. The other two straightened out their entanglements with the law, but Craig, who was fined $1,000, left his bondsmen in the lurch and has since been investigating climates in zones other than his own. Recently he came home and staged a little party, resulting in a twenty day sentence in the jail at Dixon being meted out to him. As a result of his behavior three years ago he will now be confined until the $1,000 fine is settled, or until some circuit judge takes pity on him and releases him, as a fine levied in circuit court is unlike one ordered by a justice court in that it cannot be boarded out at a certain allowance per day.

John Copponi, age 38, and George Mathovich, one year his senior, were taken into custody when their automobile aroused the suspicions of officers and was found to contain 70 gallons of alleged alkyl. Their capture occurred a short distance east of Morrison on the Lincoln highway, their Star coupe bearing an Iowa license. They claimed to be from Des Moines, but further inquiry proved they were from Chicago. Their cargo was to be delivered in Iowa, they said. Friends of the two from Chicago were here and have returned to the windy city to raise money for their release. They are held under $2,000 bail each. It is now believed that the pair will go into county court Friday of this week, plead guilty and take their medicine from Judge Blodgett.

Washington Bureau,

Room 116 House Office Building,
June 11, 1928.

If Andy Mellon would only tell we'd know, wouldn't we? By the time this letter appears in The Telegraph perhaps Andy will have spoken.

Down here with us, it's Cal.

I am going to listen to the convention talk over a radio which will be placed in the large Majority room of the House. I'll be there most of the time.

Congressman Johnson left for the convention Sunday afternoon. He is one of the Lowden boosters. Durn it, I hope the Colonel wins. It would mean so much for Dixon and our state. Let everybody from Illinois pull for Lowden. But down East everyone keeps saying, "Lowden has not a chance." Maybe so, but regardless of what anyone says, he would make a mighty good president.

Cal and Grace are all ready for Wisconsin. Tickets are bought and the boys in the railroad yards are making up the train. The President knows what is going to happen, so he is not worrying a great deal. Well, if it is Cal, he'll be elected.

Hoover's Son

Allen Hoover, youngest son of Herbert Hoover, is one of the most interested spectators at the G. O. P. convention in Kansas City. Naturally, he is confident his dad will be nominated.

200,000 miles, and is still in good working fettle. With its early form of chain drive, crude iron tires and one horsepower motor, it registers a top speed of eight miles an hour.

That his new auto is the smallest in the world and will attain a speed of 17 miles an hour are the claims of the builder, Jans Schultz, a German mechanic. The machine weighs only 20 pounds and has a four-cylindered water-cooled gasoline engine, clutch, differential, accelerator and brakes. It is controlled by a set of strings because it is too small for even a child to get into.

Coinage of the mints of the United States during the month of May amounted to 20,326,000 pieces of domestic money and 790,000 pieces of foreign governments. The coinage of United States money aggregated $31,- 984,210. Following is the tabulated statement of production in May just made public by the Bureau of the Mint, Department of the Treasury.

Gold—Double eagle, 1,575,000 pieces; Silver—Half dollars, 210,000 pieces; Minor—Five cent nickel, 4,845,000 pieces; one cent bronze, 13,696,000 pieces; total, 18,541,000 pieces.

Total domestic coinage, 20,326,000 pieces.

Coinage other than United States: Ecuador, silver 240,000 pieces; Nicaragua, silver, 250,000 pieces; Nicaragua, bronze, 500,000 pieces.

The first session of the Seventieth Congress left the following record of national accomplishments:

Passed a tax reduction law, cutting $222,495,000 from income taxes.

Enacted Mississippi flood control act, with an authorization of $325,000,000.

Passed law to encourage development of American merchant marine, including a $250,000,000 new construction loan fund.

Completed necessary legislation for the return of alien property still held by this country and for the settlement of American claims growing out of the World War.

Both branches of Congress passed the resolution for government operation of Muscle Shoals, but was not signed by the President.

The McNary-Haugen farm relief measure, containing the controversial equalization fee, passed Congress again at the session and was again vetoed by the President. By subsequent vote the Senate refused to override the veto.

Enacted a postal rate revision measure.

Made annual appropriation for all governmental purposes. The annual supply bills amounted to $3,253,540,162.04, while fixed charges, including interest on the public debt, amounted to $1,388,753,735.52, making a total of $4,642,293,897.56.

Passed a law increasing the capital of the Inland Waterways Corporation and extending facilities of government barge lines.

Enacted, over the President's veto, the disabled emergency officers' retirement bill, placing the great number of World War officers of this class on an equality with regular officers.

Enacted, over the President's veto, a bill to give additional pay for night work to 50,000 postal and railway mail clerks.

Passed, over the veto, a bill granting extra allowances to fourth-class postmasters.

Campaigns of Former Years

1884

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Grover Cleveland of New York was nominated for president by the democratic national convention of 1884, meeting at Chicago, July 8-11, and Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana for vice president. Hendricks had been vice presidential nominee eight years before.

The republican party met June 3-6 at Chicago, the rank and file demanding nomination of James G. Blaine for the presidency. He was chosen, and Gen. John A. Logan of Illinois was selected for vice president.

Blaine was styled "the Plumed Knight", and republican marching clubs wore plumes in their hats during the campaign. But lack of support from an influential group in his own party, the "stalwarts" headed by Senators Conkling and Platt, weakened him, and his defeat was helped by the unfortunate use, on the eve of the election, of the phrase "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion", employed by one of his supporters to characterize the opposition.

Blaine was for years the idol of his party, but like Webster and Clay before him and Bryan after, he never got to be president. Cleveland was elected, the first democrat to win since Buchanan.

Royalty Figures in Divorce Suit

His affection for Madame Lepescu have not only cost Prince Carol of Rumania his throne but they have now led to a divorce suit filed by Princess Helena, mother of Rumania's "boy king." The princess has started action in Bucharest. Above, she is shown with the young King Michael. Below are Prince Carol and Madame Lepescu.

A Girl Grad, a Famed Dad

Yes, they're father and daughter, but not fellow students, just because they're wearing scholastic robes. Miss Margaret Young, prominent New York society girl, is pictured as a graduate of Bryn Mawr College, at Bryn Mawr Pa. Her father, Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of the General Electric Company, was the Commencement Day speaker at the school.

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service Fiction by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED

VIRGINIA BREWSTER is to love with a poor artist, NATHANIEL DANN, but she is tricked into promising to marry FREDERICK DEAN in one year if she fails to earn $100,000 which he alleges her father had cheated him out of in a bootlegging deal.

BREWSTER had lost his fortune in speculation before his sudden death so that VIRGINIA is left penniless. She knows some of her jewelry and a broker friend, OLIVER CUTLER, promising that the money she had and try to earn the hundred thousand.

She avoids all her wealthy friends and seeks work under an assumed name, but without success. She finds orchids at her hotel one evening from DEAN and wonders how he learned her address. A call from the agency brings hope, but when she goes there the manager tries to dissuade her from working and advises her to marry.

CUTLER insists on taking VIRGINIA out to dinner and hints that there are several ways in which she can obtain the coveted hundred thousand. She challenges his remark and he pretends innocence.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXII.

OLIVER'S distaste for gratitude did not disturb Virginia. He always had been impatient of most accepted standards of conduct and conventions, she remembered tolerantly. It would be like him to get her out of this appalling situation in which she found herself and attempt to pass it off with a negligent wave of his hand.

She smiled over the thought of how she would startle him with the truth when she dared tell it. He would know then how much she owed him.

She unlocked the door and entered the small dark room with her mind filled with pictures of the future. Pleasant pictures. Automatically she switched on the light and took off her hat, still half-dreaming over the assurance of success she had received from Oliver.

It was several minutes before she noticed a box on the bed. Her first impression was that Frederick Dean had sent more flowers and she decided not to open the box.

But a second glance revealed that it was not from a florist. The label was that of a famous modiste.

Virginia was curious to know why anything from that shop should be sent her. Perhaps it was something she had ordered before her father's death, she reflected. Often weeks were required to bring made-to-order lingerie and garments from Italy or France to America. She'd better see what it was. It would have to be returned unless it had been included in the bills already presented to the estate. Better send it back anyhow. If the shop would credit it, Virginia thought as she untied the box, she smiled when she saw it, and Virginia let it pass. "I intended to ask you to share a walk in the park," he went on, "but you look too gorgeous for it."

"Nonsense. No one will notice me."

"Maybe not, if everyone has suddenly developed eye trouble," Nathaniel remarked. "We'll take a taxi to 59th street. I don't want to lead a parade into the park."

"All right," Virginia assented. "If you think you can afford it."

"Don't try to patronize me, Cinderella," Nathaniel bantered. "How do you know I'm not a prince in disguise?"

Virginia looked at him with eyes that proclaimed him a prince as he tape and turned back the tissue folds.

When she held the contents up for inspection she could not recall having ordered anything of the kind. It was a cape wrap of silver metal lace, exquisitely made. Virginia gazed at it admiringly a moment before she threw it over her shoulders and looked in the mirror.

It was richly smart with the black chiffon dress she was wearing and Virginia took it off and put it back in the box with a small sigh of reluctance.

She was rettying the tape when her telephone rang and she answered, to be told that Nathaniel Dann was downstairs. Virginia's heart sang with joy. She darted about, washing her hands at the stained lavatory in the corner, touching her ear lobes with perfume and setting the waves of her bob more smoothly.

She was about to hurry out when it occurred to her that Nathaniel would want to take her to some better place than the hotel parlor to talk. Turning back to get a light wrap, her eyes fell upon the box on the bed. She stopped, breathless with delight at

HUDKINS WILL BE REAL "FIGHTING CHAMP" HE SAYS

Expects to Win from Mickey Walker in Chicago June 21

Chicago—Ace Hudkins, the Nebraska Wildcat who fights Mickey Walker for the middleweight title here at Comiskey Park, June 21st, is going to be a real fighting champion if he wins the crown. This was the statement of Clyde Hudkins last night. Inasmuch as Clyde is manager of brother Ace and usually means what he says, the aforesaid statement can be taken for just what it says.

Clyde Hudkins has already started negotiations with Promoter Jim Mullen for a title fight within three months after the June 21st battle. Clyde is confident that Ace will be returned the champion and wants his brother to get plenty of action. Hudkins makes only one stipulation, that the fight be held in Chicago.

The Wildcat established his training camp at Mills Stadium Saturday. He will start working today with his crew of sparring partners. Ace worked yesterday at Mullen's Gym and looked to be in great shape. He weighs 158 pounds right now which is four pounds heavier than he was a week ago. Hudkins looks much faster as a middleweight than as a welterweight and figures to be the most dangerous contender for the middleweight title since the days of Stanley Ketchell and Billy Papke.

Hudkins is amused at the odds on the big fight. Walker is 10 to 6 in the wagering. However these figures are sure to be shortened before time for action comes around.

"Ace has had 154 fights now and has lost only six of them," stated Clyde yesterday. "He has never been knocked unconscious and has fought the best from the junior lightweight division to the middleweights. He has had two tune-up bouts for Walker and won both of them by a knockout in the second round."

The arrival of the two principals in the June 21st battle stimulate ticket sales and the present outlook points to a big gate. Promoter Mullen looks for the receipts to run $200,000. Orders for tickets should be sent to Jim Mullen, 180 W. Randolph St., Chicago, and be accompanied by a certified check or money order.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Subjected to one of the heaviest cannonadings of the current season, Major League moundsmen cautiously peered from their hide-outs today to see whether the bombardment was over. Eight big league battles saw 31 pitchers pounded for 183 hits on which 108 runs were scored. Sixty of the hits were for extra bases—33 doubles, 11 triples and 16 home runs. National League batsmen were the

The heaviest shelling of the day was in the Philadelphia sector of the National League. Here the Pittsburgh Pirates cracked out 25 hits to beat the Phils, 15 to 4. Kremer, a sad disappointment this season, returned to form and gave the Quakers only five safeties, two of them, however, home runs.

Behind Benton's strong pitching, the New York Giants baffled out 16 hits to crush the league-leading Cincinnati Reds, 10 to 1. Allowing but six safeties, Benton registered his 10th victory in 12 games, all of them complete games.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved to within one game of the Reds by taking over the Braves at Boston, 9 to 6, in a wild game that saw 28 safe hits made, 18 of them by the winners. Jim Bottomley hit his 10th and 11th homers and Rogers Hornsby his 12th.

Shut out for five innings by Charley Root, the Brooklyn Dodgers suddenly came to life and battered out a 13 to 1 decision over the Chicago Cubs. Elliott held the Cubs to seven safeties.

In the American League the Yankees home-ran their way to a 15 to 7 triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Babe Ruth hit his 23rd homer; Lou Gehrig his 14th and 15th and there were contributions of one each from Pat Collins and Earle Combs.

Pitchers came into their own in the other three games. Ed Morris, Big Red Sox rookie right hander, beat the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 2, allowing seven scattered hits. The Washington Senators made it three in a row over the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 2, behind Jones' good pitching. Jimmy Fox's single in the eighth scored Cochrane with the run that enabled the Philadelphia Athletics to beat Detroit, 3 to 2.

BROKE 506 BIRDS WITHOUT A MISS TO WIN TOURNEY

TexasMarksmanMade
New Record in International Meet

Tecumseh, Ont., June 13—(AP)—The record for consecutive hits on registered targets of the Amateur Trapshooting Association has fallen before the deadly accuracy of the champion of Texas, E. F. Woodward of Houston.

Competing in the Grand International Trapshooting Tournament here yesterday, Woodward ran a three-day string of shattered birds to 506 before he missed a straight away target on his 157 shot of the day.

This phenomenal shooting enabled him to beat the record of 455 consecutive hits set last year by Guy Dering, president of the A. T. A.

Woodward started his string on Saturday at Joliet, Ill., breaking 150 straight. He added 200 more on Monday and 156 yesterday.

The second day of the international tournament saw several champions crowned.

The international amateur title went to S. M. Crothers of Philadelphia, who made all but one of his 200 targets. Woodward and three others turned in scores of 198.

Mrs. Harry Harrison of Rochester, N. Y., won the women's title with a score of 187 and the 193 score run up by Homer Clark of Alton, Ill. carried with it the professional crown. Howard Kieffer of Orrville, O. won the junior championship by breaking 183 of a possible 200 targets.

The team trophy went to Ohio with Illinois second; Michigan third and Ontario fourth.

ARE YOU "OFF" NICKEL CIGARS?

Here's One That'll Put You Back Solidly

Not only will Havana Ribbon give you a brand-new idea of the value of a nickel. But you'll be ready with a short and vicious come-back to any man who says there aren't any good five-cent cigars.

And why shouldn't Havana Ribbon be good? Listen, Havana Ribbon has the two qualities necessary to make any cigar good: It's ripe tobacco and it's long-filler tobacco. Ever hear of such a thing before in a five-cent cigar? No bitter under-ripe nor flat-tasting over-ripe leaves. No short ends to crumble in your mouth. But long, fully-ripe leaves—all so chock-full of fragrance and pure, mellow-mild flavor. Puff away on a Havana Ribbon and you've never before seen the world so peaceful and yourself so thoroughly smoke-contented. Cigar counters everywhere carry Havana Ribbon. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars. A package makes an overflow of enjoyment.

Ruth and Gehrig Ahead of Schedule

New York, June 13—(AP)—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, who hit 107 home runs between them last season, are well on their way to an even higher total this year.

Ruth had been ahead of his 1927 pace most of the year but Lou had lagged behind until he cracked out his 14th and 15th homer at Chicago yesterday while the Babe was contenting himself with No. 23.

Gehrig's blow put him five games ahead of his schedule last year when he hit 47.

Ruth, on the other hand now is ten games and ten days ahead of his 1927 pace when he hit 60. He did not get No. 23 last season until June 22 in the Yankees' sixtieth game.

SPORT SLANTS

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 13—(AP)—In spite of dwindling gate receipts, a reflection of the waning interest in fistic affairs, and the proximity of a heavier tax burden on tickets, Metropolitan match-makers do not seem discouraged.

While Chicago is concentrating on the Walker-Hudkins middleweight champion bout June 21, New York fans will be asked within the next few weeks to perk up interest in a half dozen battles, most of them specializing in light heavyweights but with a sprinkling of heavies and lightweights.

The financial flop attending most, if not all, of the outdoor affairs here so far has prompted Tex Rickard to select Madison Square Garden for everything but his biggest shots.

Jimmy McLarnin, erstwhile lightweight sensation, who didn't have any more luck outdoors in his title bout with Sammy Mandell than Rickard did with the ticket sale for that affair, will try to recoup some of his fortunes indoors. Baby-faced Jimmy will meet the veteran Greek trial-horse, Phil McGraw, at the Garden the same night that Mickey Walker is battling the Nebraska Wildcat at Chicago.

The busy light heavyweight brigade with the Latzo-Lomski elimination affair on this evening at Ebbets Field, moves indoors for a championship tilt June 28 at the Garden where Tommy Loughran will face his old rival, Jimmy Slattery. It was a victory over Slats last winter that clinched world's championship recognition for Tommy.
